

What better way to say Thank you, and escape the office than a day on board Jeanneau yachts, sailing in the most famous waters in the UK – The Solent.

Sailing is more popular than ever with Great Britain the most successful sailing nation in the Olympics. It is becoming a major sporting and social occasion - an ideal environment for networking and communicating with colleagues, a unique way to spend quality time with your guests. The sense of camaraderie and team spirit that is gained from racing lasts a great deal longer than the day itself and most importantly of all, forms an ideal foundation on which future business relationships and partnerships may be firmly built upon.
